

inlinecss.html > html > body > div > div

```
1 <!DOCTYPE html>
2 <html lang="en">
3 <head>
4   <meta charset="UTF-8">
5   <meta name="viewport" content="width=device-width, initial-scale=1.0">
6   <title>Inline CSS</title>
7 </head>
8 <body>
9   <h1 style="color: ■ rgb(228, 115, 95);font-family: Cambria;text-align: center;">My Idol Sports Persons</h1>
10  <div style="display: flex;"
11
12      <h2 >1. Virat Kohli</h2>
13
14        Virat Kohli is one of the most celebrated cricketers in the world and a modern-day legend of Indian cricket. Born on November 5, 1988, in Delhi, he made his international debut in 2008 and quickly rose to fame with his consistent performances and fiery attitude. Known for his aggressive playing style, sharp cricketing mind, and exceptional fitness, Kohli has broken numerous records, including being one of the fastest to score thousands of runs in various formats. He served as the captain of the Indian team across all formats and led the side to several notable victories. Off the field, Kohli is also admired for his discipline, philanthropy, and influence on the younger generation of cricketers.
15
16
17
18      <h2>2. Milkha Singh</h2>
19
20        Milkha Singh, popularly known as <q>The Flying Sikh,</q> was one of India's greatest track and field athletes. Born in 1929, he overcame great personal and national tragedy during the Partition of India to become a symbol of hope and perseverance. Milkha represented India in three Olympics and won gold medals in the Asian Games and Commonwealth Games. His most unforgettable performance was at the 1960 Rome Olympics, where he narrowly missed a bronze medal in the 400 meters race. His life story was later adapted into the film Bhaag Milkha Bhaag. Milkha Singh remains a legendary figure in Indian sports history, remembered for his spirit, speed, and contribution to athletics.
21
22
```

```
23
24   <h2>3. Mary Kom</h2>
25
26     Mary Kom is a six-time world champion boxer from Manipur who has made an indelible mark on Indian sports. Born in 1982, she rose to prominence through sheer determination and passion for boxing, despite facing many societal and financial challenges. Known as <q>Magnificent Mary,</q> she is the only woman boxer to win a medal in each of the first seven World Championships and also won a bronze medal at the 2012 London Olympics. Her journey is a story of resilience and excellence, especially as a mother and athlete balancing her personal and professional life. Mary Kom is a role model for countless young women in India and around the world.
27
28
29
30   <h2>4. Neeraj Chopra</h2>
31
32     Neeraj Chopra is a javelin thrower who brought immense pride to India by winning a historic gold medal at the Tokyo 2020 Olympics. Born in 1997 in Haryana, Neeraj developed an interest in javelin throw at a young age and steadily rose through national and international competitions. His Olympic win marked a significant milestone as it was India's first-ever gold in athletics. With a powerful throw of 87.
     58 meters, he etched his name in history and inspired a new wave of interest in track and field sports in India. Neeraj continues to train hard and is seen as a key figure in India's future sporting success on the global stage.
33
34
35
36   <h2>5. P. T. Usha</h2>
37
38     P. T. Usha, often called the <q>Queen of Indian Track and Field,</q> is one of the most iconic athletes in Indian sports history. Born in 1964 in Kerala, she was known for her speed and versatility in sprint and hurdle events. Usha represented India in multiple international competitions, including the Olympics, Asian Games, and World Championships. Her most notable performance came at the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics, where she missed an Olympic medal by just 1/100th of a second in the 400m hurdles. Despite the heartbreak, she continued to dominate Asian athletics and won numerous gold medals. Today, she mentors young athletes and has also served as a Member of Parliament, continuing to contribute to Indian sports.
39
```

My Idol Sports Persons

1. Virat Kohli

Virat Kohli is one of the most celebrated cricketers in the world and a modern-day legend of Indian cricket. Born on November 5, 1988, in Delhi, he made his international debut in 2008 and quickly rose to fame with his consistent performances and fiery attitude. Known for his aggressive playing style, sharp cricketing mind, and exceptional fitness, Kohli has broken numerous records, including being one of the fastest to score thousands of runs in various formats. He served as the captain of the Indian team across all formats and led the side to several notable victories. Off the field, Kohli is also admired for his discipline, philanthropy, and influence on the younger generation of cricketers.

2. Milkha Singh

Milkha Singh, popularly known as "The Flying Sikh," was one of India's greatest track and field athletes. Born in 1929, he overcame great personal and national tragedy during the Partition of India to become a symbol of hope and perseverance. Milkha represented India in three Olympics and won gold medals in the Asian Games and Commonwealth Games. His most unforgettable performance was at the 1960 Rome Olympics, where he narrowly missed a bronze medal in the 400 meters race. His life story was later adapted into the film Bhaag Milkha Bhaag. Milkha Singh remains a legendary figure in Indian sports history, remembered for his spirit, speed, and contribution to athletics.

3. Mary Kom

Mary Kom is a six-time world champion boxer from Manipur who has made an indelible mark on Indian sports. Born in 1982, she rose to prominence through sheer determination and passion for boxing, despite facing many societal and financial challenges. Known as "Magnificent Mary," she is the only woman boxer to win a medal in each of the first seven World Championships and also won a bronze medal at the 2012 London Olympics. Her journey is a story of resilience and excellence, especially as a mother and athlete balancing her personal and professional life. Mary Kom is a role model for countless young women in India and around the world.

4. Neeraj Chopra

Neeraj Chopra is a javelin thrower who brought immense pride to India by winning a historic gold medal at the Tokyo 2020 Olympics. Born in 1997 in Haryana, Neeraj developed an interest in javelin throw at a young age and steadily rose through national and international competitions. His Olympic win marked a significant milestone as it was India's first-ever gold in athletics. With a powerful throw of 87.58 meters, he etched his name in history and inspired a new wave of interest in track and field sports in India. Neeraj continues to train hard and is seen as a key figure in India's future sporting success on the global stage.

5. P. T. Usha

P. T. Usha, often called the "Queen of Indian Track and Field," is one of the most iconic athletes in Indian sports history. Born in 1964 in Kerala, she was known for her speed and versatility in sprint and hurdle events. Usha represented India in multiple international competitions, including the Olympics, Asian Games, and World Championships. Her most notable performance came at the 1984 Los Angeles Olympics, where she missed an Olympic medal by just 1/100th of a second in the 400m hurdles. Despite the heartbreak, she continued to dominate Asian athletics and won numerous gold medals. Today, she mentors young athletes and has also served as a Member of Parliament, continuing to contribute to Indian sports.

< internalcss.html > html > head > style > #middle

```
1  <!DOCTYPE html>
2  <html lang="en">
3  <head>
4      <meta charset="UTF-8">
5      <meta name="viewport" content="width=device-width, initial-scale=1.0">
6      <title>Internal CSS</title>
7      <style>
8          #main{
9              text-align: center;
10             display: flex;
11
12         }
13         #top{
14             background-color:  orange;
15             width: 35%;
16             margin: 10px;
17             padding: 20px;
18         }
19         #middle{ 20             color:  blue;
21             width: 25%;
22             margin-top: 60px;
23             padding: 20px;
24         }
25         #bottom{
26             background-color:  green;
27             width: 35%;
28             margin: 10px;
29             padding: 20px;
30         }
31     </style>
32 </head>
```

```
33 <body>
34
35
36       <h2>1. Mahatma Gandhi</h2>
37       Mahatma Gandhi, also known as the "Father of the Nation," played a key role in India's struggle for independence through his philosophy of non-violence and truth. Born on October 2, 1869, in Porbandar, Gujarat, Gandhi led several movements like the Salt March, Non-Cooperation Movement, and Quit India Movement. He believed in peaceful civil disobedience and inspired millions to fight against British rule without using violence. His methods not only united people across India but also influenced civil rights movements around the world. Gandhi's life and teachings remain a symbol of peace, justice, and courage. 38
39       <h2>2. Subhas Chandra Bose</h2>
40       Subhas Chandra Bose was a fearless freedom fighter known for his bold leadership and powerful slogan, "Give me blood, and I will give you freedom." Born on January 23, 1897, in Cuttack, Odisha, Bose believed that independence should be achieved through force if necessary. He formed the Indian National Army (INA) to fight against British rule with the support of countries like Japan and Germany during World War II.
Bose's determination and patriotic spirit inspired many Indians to join the fight for freedom. Though his mysterious death remains a subject of debate, his legacy continues to live on in Indian history.
41
42
43
44       <h2>3. Bhagat Singh</h2>
45       Bhagat Singh was a young revolutionary who became a national hero for his courage and sacrifice. Born on September 28, 1907, in Punjab, he was deeply affected by the Jallianwala Bagh massacre and British oppression. He joined the Hindustan Socialist Republican Association (HSRA) and was involved in several revolutionary activities against British rule. At the age of 23, he was executed by the British for his involvement in the killing of a British officer and for throwing non-lethal bombs in the Central Legislative Assembly. Bhagat Singh's bravery and his willingness to die for the country made him a symbol of youthful patriotism.
46
47
```

```

```

```
  <h2>4. Rani Lakshmibai</h2>
```

```
  Rani Lakshmibai, the Queen of Jhansi, was one of the earliest and most courageous female leaders in India's freedom struggle. Born in 1828, she fought bravely against the British during the Revolt of 1857. After her husband, the king of Jhansi, died, the British tried to annex her kingdom under the Doctrine of Lapse. Refusing to surrender, she led her army into battle with great bravery and inspired both men and women to rise against British rule. Though she died in battle, her courage and resistance made her a symbol of strength and sacrifice in India's fight for independence.
```

```
  <h2>5. Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel</h2>
```

```
  Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, also known as the "Iron Man of India," played a crucial role in uniting the country after independence. Born on October 31, 1875, in Gujarat, he was a strong supporter of Mahatma Gandhi and led many important movements like the Bardoli Satyagraha. After independence, he became India's first Deputy Prime Minister and Home Minister. His greatest achievement was the integration of over 500 princely states into the Indian Union, ensuring a united and strong nation. Patel's dedication to national unity and administration continues to inspire generations of leaders in India.
```

```

```

```
</body>
```

```
</html>
```

1. Mahatma Gandhi

Mahatma Gandhi, also known as the "Father of the Nation," played a key role in India's struggle for independence through his philosophy of non-violence and truth. Born on October 2, 1869, in Porbandar, Gujarat, Gandhi led several movements like the Salt March, Non-Cooperation Movement, and Quit India Movement. He believed in peaceful civil disobedience and inspired millions to fight against British rule without using violence. His methods not only united people across India but also influenced civil rights movements around the world. Gandhi's life and teachings remain a symbol of peace, justice, and courage.

2. Subhas Chandra Bose

Subhas Chandra Bose was a fearless freedom fighter known for his bold leadership and powerful slogan, "Give me blood, and I will give you freedom." Born on January 23, 1897, in Cuttack, Odisha, Bose believed that independence should be achieved through force if necessary. He formed the Indian National Army (INA) to fight against British rule with the support of countries like Japan and Germany during World War II. Bose's determination and patriotic spirit inspired many Indians to join the fight for freedom. Though his mysterious death remains a subject of debate, his legacy continues to live on in Indian history.

3. Bhagat Singh

Bhagat Singh was a young revolutionary who became a national hero for his courage and sacrifice. Born on September 28, 1907, in Punjab, he was deeply affected by the Jallianwala Bagh massacre and British oppression. He joined the Hindustan Socialist Republican Association (HSRA) and was involved in several revolutionary activities against British rule. At the age of 23, he was executed by the British for his involvement in the killing of a British officer and for throwing non-lethal bombs in the Central Legislative Assembly. Bhagat Singh's bravery and his willingness to die for the country made him a symbol of youthful patriotism.

4. Rani Lakshmibai

Rani Lakshmibai, the Queen of Jhansi, was one of the earliest and most courageous female leaders in India's freedom struggle. Born in 1828, she fought bravely against the British during the Revolt of 1857. After her husband, the king of Jhansi, died, the British tried to annex her kingdom under the Doctrine of Lapse. Refusing to surrender, she led her army into battle with great bravery and inspired both men and women to rise against British rule. Though she died in battle, her courage and resistance made her a symbol of strength and sacrifice in India's fight for independence.

5. Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel

Sardar Vallabhbhai Patel, also known as the "Iron Man of India," played a crucial role in uniting the country after independence. Born on October 31, 1875, in Gujarat, he was a strong supporter of Mahatma Gandhi and led many important movements like the Bardoli Satyagraha. After independence, he became India's first Deputy Prime Minister and Home Minister. His greatest achievement was the integration of over 500 princely states into the Indian Union, ensuring a united and strong nation. Patel's dedication to national unity and administration continues to inspire generations of leaders in India.